HONDURAN REVOLT HAS BROKEN OUT

Government Fears an Alliance of Its Troops with the Revolutionists

New Orleans, La., Jan. 2.—Re-entering the country over which he was practically banished after being deposed three years ago, Manuel Bonilla today proclaimed himself "constitutional president" of the Republic of Honduras.

News of the landing of Bonilla's revolutionary forces on the Atlantic coast of Honduras near Puerto Cortez, and of the issuance of the former president's proclamation, was received tonight by a member of the Bonilla junta here in a cable from Puerto Barrios.

A combined naval and land attack upon Puerto Cortez is expected at any moment. It is said to be the plan of Bonilla to shell the town with the gunboat Hornet if the commandant refuses to surrender and to capture or sink the Honduran gunboat, Tatumia, which is anchored in shallow water near the docks. An advance guard of cavalry is to cut the railroad line opposite Omoa, and a line of infantry with one company of artillery is to march against Puerto Cortez.

Davila Has 500 Troops
Advices received in New Orleans from Puerto Cortez tonight state that Davila has 500 trained troops in Puerto Cortez in addition to a small battery of machine guns. The dispatch added that the loyalty of these men was doubted.

Just how much opposition will be given Bonilla in undertaking to overthrow Miguel Davila and again place himself at the head of the stormy little Central American republic, is largely a matter of conjecture. Bonilla was cast out as a result of the war which President Santos Zelaya, of Nicaragua brought about as one of the first steps in the latter's ambition to place himself at the head of a nation made up of all the Central American republics. Zelaya's dream was short lived. He reckoned with the weakness of his neighboring countries, but failed to reckon with those of his own. Barely two years had passed when he found himself dethroned and a refugee like Bonilla.

This presented Bonilla with his long sought opportunity. He and his sympathizers dreaded Davila as the representative in Honduras of Zelaya, but with the shuffling of the tyrannical president of Nicaragua no longer to be feared, the task of promulgating a revolution immediately took definite shape.

MR. AND MRS. BERRYMAN RETURNED

Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Berryman Jr. returned to the city this morning from Virginia where they have been on their honeymoon for the past few weeks.

Their wedding, which was a surprise to many friends here, occurred in Atlanta last month and they went from there to Mr. Berryman's home in Virginia.

MISSING MAN IS DEAD IN SWAMP

Searchers Find the Body of John Owens of Americus.

Americus, Ga., Jan. 2.—The partially decomposed body of a young white man, undoubtedly that of John Owens of Americus, was found in Muckalee swamp, three miles from the city late this afternoon.

Young Owens, 25 years old and unmarried, mysteriously disappeared from home Friday night last in a condition of mental aberration resulting from a protracted illness. He was scantily dressed and death in the swamp doubtless resulted from illness and exposure.

Searching parties hunted him since Saturday morning, but without success until farm hands found the body today.

One of the very best attractions of the Lyceum course at the Elite tonight. Mr. Germaine, the renowned magician.

ALFRED J. COWART IS KILLED BY SON

Father Was Abusing Family and Son Remonstrated, Is Cause of the Tragedy

Troy, Ala., Jan. 2.—The sad news came to Troy today of the death of Alfred J. Cowart, who was shot and killed by his son, Jackson Cowart, at the home on Sunday afternoon about 6 o'clock.

It is stated that an inquest was held over the body at a later hour and a verdict of justifiable homicide rendered and the young man not held.

It is stated that Mr. Cowart was drinking and when in that condition he was harsh at times to those whom he best loved. It is said that he came to the home in an intoxicated condition and when the son remonstrated, whereupon the father took after the son with a weapon, and when the son was wounded, he shot his father, producing a wound which soon resulted in death. As the father passed out of the room he fell dead.

The shooting occurred at the Cowart home, some miles below Troy on the South Three Notch road. The bullet passed through Mr. Cowart's body, piercing the heart.

Mr. Cowart was a splendid citizen, well informed and thought much of. His main fault was drink, in which condition he turned against those he loved.

He made a brave Confederate soldier, going to the war as a boy of sixteen. He was a member of Padgett's company and was wounded at the battle of Mobile. He was a long time a prisoner of war at Ship Island, where he was very ill and barely recovered.

His death is deeply regretted by all, and his family have the profound sympathy of the people.

J. R. Mills, of Ashford, route 2, was in town today and paid for his paper.

ICY WAVE WILL BE FELT OVER NATION

Lake Superior Center of Frigid Zone—Snow Storms General May Freeze in Florida

Washington, Jan. 2.—A special bulletin was issued today by the weather bureau as follows:

"The cold wave that opened the present year in the northwest was the most severe of the season. It follows a disturbance that moved down the eastern slope of the Rocky Mountains to Western Kansas and thence northeast to Lake Superior, where it was central this morning, attended by general snows and rains over the eastern half of the country.

"In the meantime a high pressure area of great magnitude has overspread the entire west and the cold wave now covers the whole interior of that section with a temperature of four degrees below zero this morning in the Texas Panhandle and a low reading of 38 degrees below zero at Harve, Mont. High northwest winds accompanied the cold weather and considerable snow in the upper Mississippi Valley and upper lake region.

"The cold wave will maintain its severe character and temperatures below the freezing point may be extended by Wednesday morning well into Southern Florida, while over the middle northern district they will range from zero to probably 20 or 25 below in extreme northern districts.

"The cold wave will continue in the east for several days and it will be accompanied at first by high, west, northwest winds, of which warnings are displayed on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts."

FONDREN-CLARK.

Mr. John Fondren who for the past several months has been connected here with McCallum, the druggist, but who moved to Slacomb during Christmas was in the city a short while this morning on his way home. Mr. Fondren was married Wednesday afternoon at Slacomb to Miss Annie Clark, a charming young lady of that city. He has many friends in Dothan who will congratulate them.

GIVING AN OPENING.

Mr. H. G. Bonhage, representing Strouse & Bros., Baltimore, High Art Custom Tailors, is in the city giving a spring opening at Grant Clothing Company's store. Mr. Bonhage has been coming to Dothan for this tailoring house for many years, and is one of the most experienced men in his line. When orders are given through him with Grant Clothing Co., the suits are basted and shipped out for a try-on, so that one has all of the convenience that the home tailor could give, and a fit is easy.

He will be here all the week.

RANK-MATTHEWS

Mr. Charlie Rank, a contractor of Ashford, and Miss Anna Matthews, also of that city, were married here today at noon by Judge George Leslie. The ceremony took place in the probate office and only a few were present to witness it.

EX-SHERIFF KILLS HIS BEDFELLOW

Thinking Him a Burglar—John Watt Slain by E. E. Hicks on Farm in Laurens.

Dublin, Ga., Jan. 3.—Former Sheriff E. E. Hicks, known to his friends as "Pomp," shot and instantly killed John Wyatt in the room they were occupying together during last night.

The shooting was the result of a mistake. Hicks believing he had shot a burglar. Several times he called to the man, whose dim outline he saw in the room, when he awakened late at night. He threatened to shoot unless some response was made. Hearing none he fired. The shot from the gun struck Wyatt on the chin, tearing it away, cutting the jugular vein in two and tearing a big hole in the neck. Death was instantaneous.

As soon as he fired the shot Hicks reached over for the purpose of awaking Wyatt, who he

WILL HOLD CAUCUS ON MONDAY NIGHT

Assurances Have Been Received That Over Two-Thirds of the Members will Attend

A caucus of the Democratic members of the House and Senate of the Alabama Legislature will be held Monday night, the night preceding the assembling of the Legislature.

Assurances have been received from sufficient numbers of the members to indicate that the caucus, no matter what turns up, will be attended by much more than two-thirds of the members of the Legislature. Some important legislation must be gotten through during the first week of the legislature to be legal. A caucus has been determined upon to agree upon this legislation, so that it may be expeditiously passed.

In the Democratic caucus it will be determined as to the vote by which the platform measures will be passed. The caucus, by a vote, will first determine as to whether the measures declared for in the last Democratic platform shall or shall not be passed. The lines will be drawn there and the supporters and opponents of the Democratic platform will fight it out there. This is the significant feature of the coming caucus.

In addition to this the House and Senate will select their various officers in caucus. These will be formally elected the following day.

thought was yet in bed. He called "John! John! get up, I have killed somebody." He received no response and found that Wyatt was not in bed. He feared then that he had killed his friend, and ran in his night clothes to a negro's house near by for aid. The negro returned with him. A light was struck and Wyatt was found dead on the floor.

The second attraction of the Lyceum Course at the Elite tonight. Don't miss it.

Great Alarm

During the last week or ten days, we lost four old staidly subscribers to the Daily Eagle. Coming in droves like that caused some alarm in the circulation department of the paper, and some inquiry was instituted.

We took it up with the carrier boys, who, after all, are the pulse of the subscribers here in town. The carrier boys said that all of this slumping off was due to the fact that a fellow hit the town a few weeks ago, soliciting subscription for a city daily, as a means of disposing of hardware left on his hands. The solicitor, knowing his business, went direct to the housewife, and unfolded a package of kitchen cutlery, hardware and general merchandise that caught the attention. He showed her how she could cut the bread, knead the dough, slice the meat, trim the yams, peel the potatoes and core the apples, rock the baby and dry its things with one and the same outfit. He didn't say that it would wring the clothes and hang them out and grease the spider to bake the bread, but he might, and not have been overdrawing it. With all of this kit of tools, household goods and kitchen furniture, the excellent morning daily was given as a premium, if the regular subscription price was paid a year in advance.

And you know that thing took. It was not the paper they wanted so much, but it was the kitchen conveniences found in that package. We say it wasn't the paper, because most of that half dozen who thought that no home paper was needed if all of this could be secured before the man left town, have telephoned us to tell the boy to go to leaving the Eagle again, as they have decided that they need a home paper that gives the news while it's fresh, the day it's news.

So the Circulating Editor told the carrier boys to say this to those who think they can put up with a city daily, with no home paper:

"Mister, if you are bucking the market, and have to see the reports each day; if you want to see who was killed in yesterday's wreck in today's paper; if you want to read of all the murders in the world except those near home; if you want to keep posted on the latest automobile and aeroplane accidents; if you want the latest New York society scandals and divorce suits; if you want all this, then buy your yesterday's paper and read it today. But if you want to read of the fortunes and misfortunes, the happiness and the sorrow of your friends and neighbors; if you want the news of your home written for homefolks, then you will have to keep the home paper coming every day."

It is a good idea to take other papers, but it isn't a good idea to take other papers if the home paper is left off the list.

Little Johnnie and Sister Carrie might be sick with the measles and whooping cough both, and their friends would never know it by reading the foreign paper. That wouldn't be news to those big papers, but it is news to homefolks. Indeed, they might even die, and get a three line local under the heading of "Deaths" in the city paper, while the death would demand more space in the home paper.

What is news to us of Dothan, isn't considered news a hundred or so miles from Dothan, where the paper is printed for a different clientele.

The doings of our churches, schools, courts, society, fires, real estate transactions, the new comers, the new business enterprises, of Dothan and this community, are of much interest to the people here, but could be given scant notice, in all, in a big daily published in a city.

There is a great number of regular subscribers in this town to the city papers, but they have been reading long enough to know what they want. Probably 99 per cent of these people take the home paper, but the man or woman who feels like economizing under the law, and leaves off the home paper for the other, is merely inexperienced. Such a person won't stay off long enough to be missed, and we always welcome them back, knowing that they will be with us to the end.

We have seen the time in this town, that when the first day of January came, the business men all discontinued their advertising, and sat out the chairs in the front of the store, and looked up the checker boards, preparing for a quite enjoyable time. There are a few merchants here now who wouldn't mind doing this, but they have such enterprising competitors, till they have found that they cannot let up. If they have goods to sell every day in the year they figure that the best way to do, is to keep hitting it, just as regular as the doors are opened.

While They Are about It.

While they are preparing bills to introduce in the next legislature, some man will make himself popular by presenting a bill doing away with the state board of tax appraisers.

A county that cannot figure out its own tax values through its own officials, should apply for a guardian, anyway.

If the county commissioners are selected with care, getting fairminded business men, the county board will be amply able to adjust tax valuations.

There will be a general shout going up from all sections of Alabama, if the legislature will do away with the present state board of tax appraisers. Corner had some pretty good laws put on the books, and they should be kept there, and they will, but some of the laws shouldn't be allowed to remain. We have people in each county with sufficient knowledge of local affairs to fix tax valuations.

There ought to be some kind of a premium offered by the business men of this town for the most corn grown on one acre of land, or the most cotton. The fertilizer manufacturers, it looks like, would do well to take this up, specifying that their fertilizer was to be used. It would be a good thing for them, a good thing for the people who enter the contest, and a good thing for Houston county.

The papers of the county have been mighty dull for a few days, and in the absence of any other excuse, we believe that it was due to the non-delivery of the Congressional Record, during the holidays. We will be able to tell, within a day or two, when this splendid publication resumes business.

The rural carriers, and the post office clerks, have a way of keeping up with the number of new families moving to Dothan and Houston county. Each week, applications are made for boxes at the office, or mail boxes on the rural routes, at the rate of about one a day.

You can find towns all over Alabama, nestling among the hills in the valleys, and the dates, where the laws are respected with reference to prohibition. There is no telling what will be done though, when the boys meet in the capital city, now in a few days.

Santa Claus' next friend ought to enter suit for damage against Tom Watson. Tom recounts some of the reasons why the Jeffs were started, and incidentally brings up his trouble with Col. Mann, whom he says looks like Santa Claus.

Our Alabama weather shipments have been delayed during the last few days, and it is to be hoped that things will adjust themselves and we will get our weather regularly once more.

We always look for something better in the future, but betwixt us, don't you think that we ought to be satisfied if we can do as well in a financial way, during 1911 as we did during the last year.

There will always be a good deal of risk attached to the aeroplane business, and those people who were figuring on selling their automobiles, or horses, can afford to wait at least another year.

There is something doing every day in the year in this town, and the people who don't live here are finding out about it. They are investigating Dothan, and this territory.

The earth, which does time as a reservoir as well as a footstool, will not take up any more water than will be needed next spring and summer for growing crops.

Among other things to remember during the starting off of the new year, don't forget to keep down your expenses, at least keep them down below the income.

Such a pity that Uncle Sam didn't start to taking the census the first day of last January, so that the information might be given out during the same year.

Saving is a good habit. It ought to be cultivated early in life, and if started right, will be an easy habit to keep going.

OWN YOUR HOME.

Why pay exorbitant rents, when the same money will buy your home? Suppose you are paying $25 per month rent. That's $300 a year. Add $200 to the rent, or $16.67 a month, and you can have a home built on any lot you own and the home will be exactly like you want it.

We have two of those desirable lots on the corner of Newton and St. Andrews streets left. There are no more valuable lots for residences in Dothan and they are as cheap now as they will ever be. The owner will build homes for the buyers of these lots on the payment of one-fourth cash. The balance may be paid like rent.

Dothan has just entered upon the best era in its history. The new census places the city among the leading towns in Alabama and the next few years will witness such a growth as the most optimistic booster has not dreamed of. Property is cheap now to what it will be then. We have several pieces of business property at specially low prices. Let us show them to you.

A Good Business

I wish to thank each and every customer for the liberal patronage given me during the fall and winter. My trade has been better than it ever was before.

Just at this time, however, I have a lot of odd suits, for men and boys, and overcoats, that must be sold to make room for the spring goods. This winter stuff will be sold at Manufacturers' Cost.

Think of what that means at this season.
